This database was compiled and designed for the new Bringin' it Home program and is intended for use by community presenters and artists who are members of Music Nova Scotia. Music Nova Scotia has done its best to make the information as comprehensive and detailed as possible, and hopes that artists and community presenters will to use this database to connect with one another and create musical performance opportunities throughout the province for years to come. The database contains a listing of community presenters in Nova Scotia and details on the venues they use for performances. These presenters range from small rural community centres, to large professional theatres, and everywhere in between.

The new Bringin' it Home puts the program in the hands of the community presenter with support from Music Nova Scotia, The Department of Tourism, Culture and Heritage, and TICKETPRO. This new program will create opportunities to present Nova Scotia artists with MNS assistance and will see community presenters "own" their shows, resulting in greater attendance and more work for Nova Scotia artists. Under the program, participating community presenters are eligible for a pre-approved funding guarantee against a financial loss on a presentation, should a loss be incurred.
